Blackened Fish

BATCH YIELD 18–21 pieces × 3 oz

6–7 filets, each cut into thirds.

INGREDIENTS

- 6–7 cod filets, 6 oz each
- 1/2 cup blackened redfish seasoning
- 1/4 cup oil blend

METHOD

1. Cut each 6 oz filet into thirds to make 2 oz pieces. Place into a medium mixing bowl.
2. Add the dry seasoning and oil blend, then mix gently with gloved hands until the filets are fully covered in seasoning.

Note — Shelf life: 5 days (raw fish). Use a dedicated cutting board for raw fish. Breaded and fried to order for Baja Fish Tacos; see Fried Cod.

Fried Cod

INGREDIENTS

- 3 pieces Blackened Fish (2 oz raw blackened cod each)
- House-Autry Seafood Breading, as needed

METHOD

1. Grab three 2 oz pieces of Blackened Fish.
2. Cover each piece completely in the Seafood Breading (House-Autry Seafood Breader).
3. Place into the fryer basket.
4. Fry at 350°F until golden brown and the internal temperature reaches 160°F. Check the thickest piece with a probe thermometer.

Note — Shelf life: 2 days for the raw portions; bread to order. Cooked to order, 3 pieces per Baja Fish Tacos order. Use the Seafood Breading only, never the Hot Honey Dredge. Handle the raw fish with gloves and keep it away from ready-to-eat items.

Marinated Chicken Tenders

INGREDIENTS

- 1 (10 lb) bag chicken tenderloins, drained
- 1/2 cup hot sauce
- 1 cup buttermilk

METHOD

1. Place the drained tenderloins into a 1/3 pan.
2. In a measuring cup, add the hot sauce and buttermilk. Mix thoroughly.
3. Pour over the drained tenders and mix until every piece is coated.
4. Label, date, and refrigerate.

Note — Shelf life: 4 days (USDA guidance for raw chicken, marinated or not). Marinate smaller batches if a full bag won't move in 2 days. Raw chicken: store on the bottom shelf, below ready-to-eat foods and seafood. Breaded and fried to order; see Crispy Chicken Tenders.

Crab Cakes

BATCH YIELD ≈ 4 cakes × 4 oz KITCHEN TO VERIFY

From 16 oz crab at the recipe ratio.

INGREDIENTS

- 16 oz can super lump crab meat
- 1 medium egg
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- 2 tbsp mustard
- 1 tsp Old Bay
- 2 tbsp panko bread crumbs
- 1/3 cup fresh chopped parsley, loosely packed

INGREDIENT YIELDS

Usable ounces from each pound as purchased, after trim (and cooking where noted). Use these to know how much to order.

Parsley 8.5 oz per 1 lb (53%)

Curly parsley, leaves only. Italian (flat) leaves only is 6.5 oz (40%). If stems are chopped in too, USDA gives 14.7 oz (92%).

Book of Yields (Lynch), Fresh Herbs · USDA Food Buying Guide, Vegetables

METHOD

1. Crack the egg into a mixing bowl and remove any shell. Add mayo, mustard, and Old Bay, and whisk until fully combined.
2. Open the can of super lump crab meat, add it to the mixture, and gently fold in by hand.
3. Add the parsley and panko, and gently mix by hand.
4. Cover and refrigerate for at least 30 minutes so the panko can hydrate.
5. Portion into 4 oz cakes.

Note — Shelf life: 5 days (raw egg binder). Cakes should show fresh parsley throughout. Keep covered until ready to cook.

Hamburger Patty

BATCH YIELD 40 patties × 4 oz

From one 10 lb tube.

INGREDIENTS

- 10 lb ground beef
- Digital scale

METHOD

1. Using a scale, portion ground beef into 4 oz balls. One 10 lb tube yields 40 patties.
2. With gloved hands, roll into balls and place in a 4-inch full pan lined with wax paper — 5 per row, separating layers with wax paper.

Note — Shelf life: 5 days (raw ground beef). Ground beef arrives in 10 lb tubes. Official portion is 4 oz per patty. Used on the Yardery Burger (2 patties, 8 oz), the Landon Burger (1 patty, 4 oz), and the kids All-American Burger (1 patty, 4 oz). Cover with plastic wrap and a lid.

Multiply Batch 1× ▾

Pulled Pork (Smoked)

BATCH YIELD 256 oz (16 lb)

From 2 bone-in butts. Confirmed under the old method; weigh a batch made this way to confirm it still holds.

INGREDIENTS

- 2 pork butts, bone-in
- 2 tbsp oil (about 1 tbsp per butt)
- BBQ Dry Rub, to coat
- 4 tbsp butter (2 tbsp per butt)
- 1/4 cup brown sugar (1/8 cup per butt)
- Spritz: apple cider vinegar and apple juice, mixed 50/50
- Foil, 2 sheets per butt

METHOD

1. Prep. Pat the pork butts dry, removing any blood or surface moisture.
2. Score the fat cap 1/8 to 1/4 inch deep. This lets the seasoning in and helps the fat render.
3. Rub about 1 tbsp oil over the outside of each butt, just enough to make the surface tacky so the rub sticks.
4. Coat the outside with BBQ Dry Rub, patting it in.
5. Smoke. Preheat the smoker to 225°F, then add the butts.
6. Smoke 1 hour, untouched.
7. After the first hour, spritz with the 50/50 apple cider vinegar and apple juice every 45 minutes.
8. Keep smoking. It usually takes 5–7 hours to reach the stall: the internal temp slows down and flattens out, usually around 155–165°F. That's your cue to wrap.
9. Wrap (at the stall, about 155–165°F internal). Lay out a sheet of foil. Put about 2 tbsp butter and 1/8 cup brown sugar in the center. Set the butt on top, fat cap down, and wrap so the seam ends up on the bottom.

10. Lay out a second sheet of foil. Center the wrapped butt fat cap up and wrap so the seam ends up on the top.
11. Finish. Cook at 250°F, in the smoker or the oven, for about 3–4 more hours, until probe-tender. That's usually around 203°F internal (200–205°F). The probe should slide in and out like it's going into softened butter; that feel matters more than the exact number.
12. Rest before opening: leave the butts wrapped, in a pan, for about 1 hour so the juices redistribute into the meat.
13. Unwrap. Doneness check: the shoulder bone should pull out clean with no meat clinging to it, and the meat should fall right off.
14. Remove the top layer of fat that didn't render off the fat cap, then pull the pork.

Note — Shelf life: 7 days. Used in the Pulled Pork Sandwich, Three Little Pigs, and Pig & Pineapple flatbread, and as the 4 oz add-on for Loaded Fries, Yardbird Nachos, Mac-n-Cheese, and the Smoked Chicken Quesadilla. Cooling: spread into shallow pans and get it to 70°F within 2 hours and 41°F within 4 more before lidding.

The why (so the cook understands what they're doing)

What the stall is. Around 150–170°F internal, the temperature flat-lines and can sit there for hours. It isn't the fat or collagen fighting you; it's evaporative cooling. As the meat heats, moisture is pushed to the surface and evaporates, exactly like sweat cooling your skin. That evaporation pulls heat away as fast as the smoker puts it in, so the center stops climbing. (Food scientist Greg Blonder showed this in controlled tests: a wet sponge stalls; pure fat doesn't.)

Why wrapping fixes it. Foil seals the surface in near-100% humidity, so moisture can't evaporate off it anymore. With evaporative cooling shut off, the smoker's heat goes into raising the meat's temperature instead of boiling off water, so it climbs steadily through the stall. You're switching from drying in the wind to braising in its own juices.

Doneness and the pit-temp rule. Pork pulls apart when the tough connective tissue (collagen) melts into gelatin, and that melt depends on both temperature and time, not one magic number. The real test is probe-tender; for most butts that lands around 200–205°F. A hotter, faster cook gives collagen less time to melt, so the meat usually has to reach the higher end of that range before it's tender. A low-and-slow cook can probe tender a couple of degrees lower. So raising the pit temp does push your finish temp up; just don't chase a number past the point where it probes tender.

Why we spritz.

- Smoke sticks to a wet surface, so spritzing helps more smoke adhere.
- It builds the smoke ring, the reddish band under the surface. A damp, cooler surface lets the nitric oxide in smoke soak in and lock the pink myoglobin before it turns gray. Moisture genuinely helps that color form.

- Honest caveat: spritzing does not really add moisture to the inside (most of it runs off), and over-spritzing can soften the bark. Keep it a light mist on schedule, not a soak.

Smoked Chicken Breast

BATCH YIELD ≈ 58 portions × 4 oz KITCHEN TO VERIFY

Diced at 1/4 inch. Estimate uses USDA's 73% cooked yield for boneless breast: 20 lb raw makes about 234 oz smoked. The v5 sheet's "10 lb makes 40 portions" is 10 lb of smoked chicken, not a 10 lb raw bag.

INGREDIENTS

- 20 lb chicken breasts (2 × 10 lb bags)
- 1.5 cups poultry seasoning
- 1 cup oil blend
- smoker preheated to 220°F

METHOD

1. Drain juice from the bags of chicken breasts, then place chicken into a large mixing bowl.
2. Add seasoning and oil and mix thoroughly with gloved hands.
3. Lay chicken breasts in a single layer on each grate of the smoker.
4. Cook until internal temperature is over 165°F.
5. Pull from the smoker and let sit 15 minutes before refrigerating.

Note — Shelf life: 7 days (cooked). Chicken should be fully covered with seasoning and evenly spaced in the smoker.

Baby Back Ribs

BATCH YIELD 1 rack

INGREDIENTS

- 1 rack baby back ribs
- 1 tbsp oil
- 1/3 cup BBQ Dry Rub
- 1 tbsp butter
- 1/8 cup honey
- 1/8 cup brown sugar
- Spritz: apple juice and apple cider vinegar, mixed 50/50
- Foil, 2 sheets per rack

METHOD

1. Prep. Remove the silver skin (membrane) from the bone side. Grip it with a paper towel so it pulls off easily.
2. Pat the ribs dry.
3. Rub about 1 tbsp oil over the outside. The oil holds the rub on and helps it work into the meat.
4. Coat the ribs with BBQ Dry Rub, about 1/3 cup per rack.
5. Smoke, phase 1 (3 hours, unwrapped). Preheat the smoker to 225°F.
6. Set the ribs in bone side down. Smoke 3 hours.
7. After the first hour, spritz with the 50/50 apple juice and apple cider vinegar every 45 minutes.
8. Wrap, phase 2 (2 hours, wrapped). On the first sheet of foil, put 1 tbsp butter, 1/8 cup honey, and 1/8 cup brown sugar. Set the ribs on top bone side up, and wrap so the foil ends finish on the bottom (bone side).
9. Wrap a second time: another sheet of foil, ribs bone side down this time, wrapped so the foil ends finish on top of the ribs.

10. Back in the smoker for 2 hours. This steams them in their own juices and makes them very tender.
11. Finish, phase 3 (1 hour, unwrapped). Take them out, unwrap, set them back in the smoker, and spritz immediately with the apple juice and vinegar mix.
12. Smoke 1 more hour, spritzing twice more: at the 30-minute mark and again at the 45-minute mark.
13. At the end of the hour they're done. Cool them (see the cooling note below).
14. Portion and store. Cut each rack in half and nothing else (6–7 bones per half).
15. Wrap each half in plastic food service film. Label, date, and refrigerate.

Note — 3-2-1 method: about 6 hours total smoker time (3 + 2 + 1). This is the only rib recipe. Shelf life: 4 days (USDA), wrapped and refrigerated. Used for the Half Rack and Full Rack of Ribs. To portion, cut each smoked rack in half and nothing else: each half is 6–7 bones. Cooling: lay in shallow pans in a single layer, don't stack, and get them to 70°F within 2 hours and 41°F within 4 more before wrapping.

Trimmed and chopped with tender stems (how most kitchens prep it). Leaves only drops to 7.4 oz (46%). US Foods says 90%.

USDA Food Buying Guide, Vegetables · Book of Yields (Lynch), Fresh Herbs · US Foods Common Product Yields (owner's sheet)

METHOD

1. Combine all ingredients except the wings in a container and emulsify with a stick blender.
2. Strain the liquid from the raw chicken wings.
3. One bag at a time, add wings to a large 22 qt container. Pour 1/4 of the marinade over and mix. Repeat until all 40 lb of wings are marinated.
4. Marinate for 2 to 24 hours.

5. Spread wings in a single layer on sheet trays. Cook in the oven at 350°F for about 25 minutes, or until internal temperature reaches 165°F.
6. Allow to cool, transfer into hotel pans, label, and refrigerate.

Note — Shelf life: 7 days (raw chicken).

INGREDIENTS

- 1 sheet bacon
- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 1 tbsp black pepper

INGREDIENT YIELDS

Usable ounces from each pound as purchased, after trim (and cooking where noted). Use these to know how much to order.

Bacon, cooked — 5.6 oz per 1 lb (31–40%)

Cooked crisp, fat drained. Expect 5 to 6.4 oz from each raw pound. USDA requires fully cooked bacon to be 40% of raw weight or less. The US Foods 93% is trim only, not cooked.

USDA FSIS, Bacon and Food Safety · US Foods Common Product Yields (owner's sheet)

METHOD

1. Mix the brown sugar and pepper together in a shaker.
2. Lay the bacon out on a full sheet pan and shake the topping evenly over it.
3. Bake until golden brown.
4. For chopped bacon (Loaded Fries, Southern Chicken salad): cut the candied bacon into 1/4-inch strips.

Note — Shelf life: 7 days (cooked). Aim for even coverage over the bacon; cooking it while the oven preheats works well. The Yardery Burger gets 1 slice, cut in half. "Chopped bacon" anywhere in the book means this candied bacon cut into 1/4-inch strips.

Fire-Roasted Cherry Tomatoes

INGREDIENTS

- 1 lb cherry tomatoes, halved
- 1 tbsp olive oil or cooking oil
- 3/4 tsp kosher salt
- 1/4 tsp freshly cracked black pepper

INGREDIENT YIELDS

Usable ounces from each pound as purchased, after trim (and cooking where noted). Use these to know how much to order.

Cherry tomatoes, roasted — 15 oz per 1 lb (94% max)

USDA's halved, cooked figure. Oven-roasting until blistered loses more water, so treat this as the most you'll get.

USDA Food Buying Guide, Vegetables

METHOD

1. Cut the cherry tomatoes in half.
2. In a mixing bowl, toss the halves with the oil, salt, and pepper until evenly coated.
3. Spread on a sheet tray and roast at 450°F for 15 minutes.
4. Check, and add time as needed until the skins blister. Remove from the oven.
5. Allow to cool, then store in a 1/6 pan.
6. Date, label, and refrigerate.

Note — Shelf life: 5 days (USDA guidance for cooked vegetables is 3 to 4 days). Used on the Black & Bleu flatbread. Cool before lidding: 135°F to 70°F within 2 hours, then to 41°F within 4 more.

Hot Honey Chicken

INGREDIENTS

- 2 (6 oz) marinated chicken breasts
- 1 slice challah bread, buttered and toasted
- 3.5 oz hot honey sauce
- 4 dill pickle slices (2 per breast)
- 2 cups Hot Honey Dredge
- Side: 8 oz fries (guest may choose any side)

METHOD

1. Bread the marinated chicken breasts with the Hot Honey Dredge, packing the breading in tightly.
2. Pre-drop the fryer basket into the gluten-contaminated fryer, then lay the chicken breasts into the oil, away from you.
3. While the chicken fries, butter a slice of challah and toast on the flat top.
4. After 7–8 minutes, check the internal temperature of the chicken. Once it reaches at least 165°F, pull from the fryer.
5. Slice the challah in half and lay the corners over one another, lay the chicken breasts on top, and douse with hot honey sauce. Garnish with two pickle slices per breast (4 total). Add 8 oz fries, or the guest's choice of any side, and serve.

Yardery Burger

INGREDIENTS

- 2 (4 oz) beef patties
- 2 slices American cheese
- 1 slice candied bacon, cut in half
- 2 oz fried onion
- 1.5 oz Yardery sauce
- 1 brioche bun
- Side: 8 oz fries (guest may choose any side)

METHOD

1. With gloved hands, pull two beef patties and place on the left (hot) side of the flat top. Remove the glove and use a spatula to tap the burgers flat.
2. Butter the bun and place it on the right (cooler) side of the flat top to toast, along with 1 slice of candied bacon, cut in half, to heat through.
3. Once the patties have seared for 1–2 minutes, flip and press completely flat, season with the Burger Seasoning shaker. Sear for another 1–2 minutes — patties should be pressed wider than the bun.
4. Flip one more time, top with a slice of American cheese on each patty, and one patty with both halves of the candied bacon.
5. Stack the bacon patty on top of the other, transfer to the bottom bun, top with Yardery sauce and fried onions, place the top bun, and serve with the side (8 oz fries by default, or the guest's choice of any side).

Avocado Tacos

INGREDIENTS

- 3 (6-inch) tortillas
- 3 oz mix cheese blend
- 3 oz black beans
- 3 pieces Breaded Avocado
- 3 oz pico de gallo
- 3 oz cilantro ranch (Cilantro Lime Sauce)
- Sprinkle of chopped cilantro
- Taco holder
- Side: 8 oz fries (guest may choose any side)
- Add-on: 4 oz smoked chicken (+$7)

METHOD

1. Drop 3 pieces of Breaded Avocado in the gluten-contaminated fryer at 350°F for 1:45 to 2:00, until golden.
2. While the avocado fries, lay the 3 tortillas on the flat top and toast lightly on both sides. If chicken is added: put a 4 oz portion of smoked chicken on the flat top at the same time and heat for 2 minutes.
3. Set a taco holder on one half of a large lined tray, leaving room for the side. Stand the 3 toasted tortillas in the holder and build each taco in this order, splitting each portion evenly across all 3 (about 1 oz each): mix cheese blend, then black beans.
4. If chicken is added: spread the heated chicken evenly across the 3 tacos now, before the avocado.
5. Remove the avocado from the fryer, drain, and place 1 piece on each taco.
6. Top each taco with pico, then drizzle the cilantro ranch evenly across all 3.
7. Finish with a sprinkle of chopped cilantro over all 3 tacos. Add the side to the open half of the tray (8 oz fries by default, or the guest's choice of any side) and serve.

- 3 oz coleslaw
- 3 oz mango pico
- 3 oz fire sauce
- Sprinkle of chopped cilantro
- Taco holder
- Side: 8 oz fries (guest may choose any side)

METHOD

1. Drop 3 pieces of Fried Cod: blackened cod covered completely in Seafood Breading, fried at 350°F until golden brown and 160°F inside.
2. While the fish fries, lay the 3 flour tortillas on the flat top and toast lightly on both sides.
3. Set a taco holder on one half of a large lined tray, leaving room for the side. Stand the 3 toasted tortillas in the holder and split the coleslaw evenly across them (about 1 oz each).
4. Remove the fish from the fryer, drain, and place 1 piece on each taco.
5. Top each taco with mango pico (about 1 oz each), then drizzle the fire sauce evenly across all 3.
6. Finish with a sprinkle of chopped cilantro over all 3 tacos. Add the side to the open half of the tray (8 oz fries by default, or the guest's choice of any side) and serve.

METHOD

1. Spray a dough ball with cooking spray until thoroughly lubricated, working in your hand to produce a neat ball.
2. Place in the center of the flatbread press tray, press down slightly, push under the heating element, and press down with adequate time and pressure to produce a roughly 10-inch circle of dough.
3. Top with shredded cheddar, shredded mozzarella, diced chicken, and diced tomatoes, then place in the front of the oven and proof for 1 minute before moving near the flame.
4. Watch carefully for bubbles, popping any large enough to displace the toppings with a knife, and rotate occasionally until an even brownness is achieved on all sides.
5. Remove using a pizza peel, set on a brown cutting board, and cut once down the middle lengthwise, then 3 times across to give 8 slices. Transfer to a paper-lined quarter tray.
6. Top with buffalo sauce and ranch, and serve.

Warm Crab Dip

INGREDIENTS

- 1 pre-portioned cast-iron pan of crab dip
- 2 oz panko
- 4 oz tortilla chips

METHOD

1. Remove wrap from crab dip. Using a shaker, top with an even layer of panko before placing into the central zone of the oven.
2. Bake until bubbling and an even browning has been achieved on the panko topping.
3. Remove from the oven using a dry towel, place on a quarter sheet tray with liner, and serve with 4 oz of tortilla chips.

Avocado Lime Ranch

INGREDIENTS

- 4 cups Cilantro Lime Sauce, finished
- 1 avocado

INGREDIENT YIELDS

Usable ounces from each pound as purchased, after trim (and cooking where noted). Use these to know how much to order.

Avocado 10.7 oz per 1 lb (67%)

Peeled and pitted. US Foods says 63%.

USDA Food Buying Guide, Vegetables · US Foods Common Product Yields (owner's sheet)

METHOD

1. Add the avocado to the finished Cilantro Lime Sauce.
2. Immersion-blend until completely smooth.

Note — Scale: 2 cups sauce to 1/2 avocado, 8 cups sauce to 2 avocados. Shelf life follows the sauce: label it with the Cilantro Lime Sauce batch's original prep date, not today's, and discard when that sauce expires (5 days from its prep date). See Food Code §3-501.17 (adopted by FL Rule 61C-4.010).
